

Democrats in Blue Jeans helping to rebuild New Orleans one block at a time.

Repairing, cleaning up, and getting life back to feeling like normal is a tough and frustrating struggle. We admire everyone here in Mid-City for the courage you are showing under tragic conditions. That's why we want to lend a hand.

DEMOCRATS IN BLUE JEANS is busy organizing teams of volunteers eager to help. This survey will tell us the critical jobs you need the most help with right now. We'll locate volunteers with the right skills and get them here to work by your side.

DEMOCRATS IN BLUE JEANS aren't afraid to sweat, but most volunteers will be available for jobs that might take three to five hours, so please think in specific terms with that time frame in mind.
